

Volume 17, Number 31

August 3 - Larry Stanford - Rick Napper from Magnolia to tell us how Health Reform that is now law is and will be affecting us and them. Please note that we will meet at Roscoe's today only
August 10—Judy Glenn has Dick Rice the WTVA weather man
August 17—Rhett Marlar
August 24—Patrick Poindexter
August 31—Joe Caldwell

A couple of weeks ago we published an account of the first Kiwanis/Rotary basketball game. Since that tome, several have asked for a report on the 2nd game, 3 years later----

What game? You mean you missed the total rout of the Rotary Club Basketball game on Tuesday night, March 24, 1996...Shame on you!

Andy Moore Not only one of our offensive leaders, while bringing the ball upcourt, Marty Decete tried to incite a charge by stepping in front of Andy. Decete was left laying on the floor, flat on his back, listening to the birds sing, steamrolled and he got up, sadder but wiser. Andy finally broke a sweat in the third quarter.

John Haines Played with the big boys under the basket and introduced several Rotarians to the floor. John got several put-back baskets and gave new meaning to "full-contact basketball."

Kevin Cooley Did his usual outstanding job. He was somewhat helped because Ricky Burgess, who was guarding him, had a bad hair day.

Greg Frazier Sacrificed his body for the Kiwanis Club. Early in the 2nd quarter, one of the largest Rotarians was breaking away for a lay up when Greg stepped in front of him. I'm sorry I did not get the name of the Rotarian since they all look alike to me.

Brain McCullen (Our Co-leader) Mixed it up under the basket. At one time he was guarded by Dave Roberts, a rather husky child, who had the dynamics of a parked semi-trailer. Brian did an outstanding job on offense and defense. If we had the foresight to keep up with who scored what, Brian would have been one of our top scorers.

Mark Gardner Another one of our top scorers, along with Andy, Brian, John and Kevin. Completely fearless as he drove to the bucket, since the Rotary Club played a zone defense, Mark had Randy Long, Ken Williams and Pat Palmer wishing they had taken up flower arranging rather than full contact basketball.

John Dodd John may have lost a step since we beat the Rotarians 3 years ago but he has retained his touch from the 3 point line. He bombed them a few times. Mark Gitting drew himself up to his full width and still couldn't stop John.

Rickey Stockton Our other Co-leader. Ricky was instrumental in giving Trey Wayne a frontal lobotomy as well as a little one-on-one basketball lesson.

Delmon Ashcraft Our resident anchorman, quite possibly the oldest man on the court, proved that even a decrepit old Kiwanian could still out play the young and limber Rotarians.

Larry Thasher Played a good game and gave Todd Kirkland a lesson in spirit as he ran the courts on offense and defense.

Randy Ferrell While Randy is no John Havlicek, Leland Chrisman chased him up and down the court and I suspect that he wasn't just checking Randy for cavities.

Danny Turner Charged up and down like a militant Muslim in Jihad. Did not sell a single policy the whole night, but I suspect quite a few Rotarians could have been customers.

Jimmy Parrish Clearly the tallest man on the floor, but freely admits, "I am not new, nor have I ever been, Karoom Abdul-Jabar." Mixed it up in the middle and left the Rotary team asking for change at the vending machine.

Our thanks to the Lady cheerleaders and all of the other members who came out to root for our victorious team.

We should continue the game as long as we keep on winning! GO! KIWANIANS!!!

Brought to you by yr ob'st svt, Bill Caruth, Cub sports reporter for Corinth Kiwanian and stringer for the Daily Planet, Clark Kent's home newspaper.

